We, the staff, have striven for the high ideal of giving you J. C. students something which will provide you with greater enjoyment as the years pass. This doorway was chosen as a symbol of our school, and was portrayed in the morning, at noon, and in the evening, to represent the theme of our book. More pictures and less reading matter were used in our effort to please. Co-operation of staff, school officials, and photographers make up the JC of 1938, one that it is hoped will be long remembered.

WE HONOR

Since morning seems to be more the time for real study, we have here selected the honor student of the class of '38, JOHN HOUBOLT, to represent that section of our book. For afternoon, sport life predominates all other activities and so, RAY McGRATH, as the outstanding athlete, was chosen. Social life takes up a College student's evenings, and so by popular vote EILEEN RODGERS was made representative for the last section devoted to social activities. To these three students, the staff gives salutations, and hereby dedicates this book.

In the fall of 1936, approximately one hundred and fifty students, realizing the unmistakable value of a college career, and desirous of extending their education beyond the value of high school training, entered J. J. C. to form the freshman class. During the ensuing school year, this intelligent and eager student group associating with one of the most progressive sophomore classes in the history of J. J. C. and under the capable guidance of a dean and faculty blessed with a sympathetic understanding and a gentle tolerance, endowed with an affectionate interest in and liberal attitude toward the student body, became accustomed to, and endeavored to serve J. J. C. Their leaders during the first year were George Wellman, H. Robinson, and Robert Owens, students whose high school records and whose obvious and expressed interest in the affairs of J. J. C. more than justified their selection as officers of this class. During the past year the class has been guided by the equally capable hands of Robert Owens, Clarence Rimke, and Phyllis Anderson. Robert Owens, president of the sophomore class, secretary of the freshman class and a member of the tennis team for the past two years, achieved fame in recognition of his outstanding dramatic ability. In addition to playing the leading role in both college plays, he participated in numerous productions under the direction of Mr. Zimmerman and the music department. Clarence Rimke, vice-president of the sophomore class and president of the College-Y Club, was a member of the championship debate team. He was also a member of the baseball team and was active in the affairs of the Student Council.

Phyllis Anderson, popular and pretty young secretary of the sophomore class, was one of the leaders of W. A. A. Phyllis was also a member of the art class and her choral activities received no little comment.

Under the leadership of these officers and other outstanding sophomore students, the sophomore class aspired to accomplish and to realize those tasks and events which would leave memories of achievements comparable to those of any preceding class. This aspiring attitude and tireless effort of the sophomore class, combined with the unselfish and invaluable assistance of a willing freshman class, resulted in many happy and successful events.

Introducing The Class of Nineteen Thirty-Eight

The nucleus of Coach Wills' conference and state championship basketball team was two sophomores who attained all-state honors. Similarly, several sophomores were influential factors in gaining the Illinois State Junior College baseball championship. It was under the inspiring and capable leadership of Coach W. L. Myers that four sophomores captured the state debate title. The College Club, which presented such varied and entertaining programs, was directed by sophomores. To the sophomore leaders of the W. A. A. and the Co-Ed Recreational Board we are deeply indebted for the unusual entertainment provided during the year. The box social and the various sports night parties have no precedent in the history of J. J. C. The Student Council, whose officers were sophomores, carried on successfully the work of the previous progressive Student Council and contributed greatly to the welfare of the student body. It was under the direction of this council that our many successful dances and mixers and social events were carried on. The abilities of the many students who cooperated so successfully and so willingly to make the JC possible were directed by a staff headed by capable and responsible sophomore students.

Thus we submit, respectfully, these accomplishments as a testimonial to the success of our aspirations, aspirations which have been so carefully fostered by an affectionate and understanding faculty.

May these accomplishments serve as the basis and the source of inspiration of future and greater achievements. To those fortunate individuals who shall continue their education in institutions of higher learning, may the ideals and lessons of J. J. C. always make them strive for the highest attainable.

To those of our less fortunate friends who shall conclude their college education in a short time, may we say in this hour of achievement: "We learn not for school but for life."

Introducing the Class of Nineteen Thirty-Nine—

Headed by

RICHARD HUTCHINSON,
President.

RAY SLOUF,
Vice-President.

ROBERT DOWSE,
Secretary-Treasurer.

RICHARD HUTCHINSON was elected president of the freshman collegians this year. His personality and scholastic achievement assured his success in this office.

RAY SLOUF was secretary of the Student Council and was one of our most promising tennis prospects.

ROBERT DOWSE was not only well liked by the student body but played an important part on the State Championship Basketball team.

Freshman Class

Probably the greatest contribution which the Freshman Class made to the Junior College this year was a group of fine basketball players. Heading them was Bob Archambeault who was chosen on the all-state team. The others were Phil Meyers, Bob Dowse, Bunny Fornango, Ted Krumpoch, Bob Layfield, Chester Cooper, and Roger Rush. Stopping at nothing they fought until they won the state tournament. Most of them will undoubtedly be back for the season next year, and students are already looking forward to even faster games than they witnessed this year.

Scattered throughout the class are also many students of unusual talents. Outstanding among these are Melvin Nyman and James Aseltine. Both are excellent pianists and have commanded considerable attention. Mr. Nyman, a citizen of Lockport, entertained at both high school and junior college assemblies. Mr. Aseltine played for the College Club on March 7.

Another popular pianist was Ray Hendrix. However, Ray was more devoted to popular music. He also played at the college assembly.

Still another freshman musician was Arthur Witkin, present director of the high school Military Band. Art also had an up-and-coming orchestra which played at the JC Social Hour this last semester.

On March 18 the Freshmen held their annual dance in the girls' gym. The committee consisted of George Galvin, Mary Elizabeth Scheidt, Jayne Clark, Ted Barklow, Mary Frances Faulkner, and Richard Hutchinson. This year the dance was a "Shamrock Shag," the decorations being predominantly Irish. They consisted of large white posters with green shamrocks and Irish pipes. Supplementing these were large shamrocks on a background of white lattice work at either end of the gym and back of the nine-piece orchestra. The favors were white clay pipes and green carnations. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. George Young and Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Yaggy.

Thus we see that the Freshman Class has taken a prominent place in the college activities, and we hope that they may continue to do so as the Sophomore Class next year.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Standing: Capista, Pendziszewski, Bannon, R., Donahue, Pavnica, Mottinger, Bannon, J., Rinke, Deiss, Beshoar, Allison, Mainwood, Shaw.

Seated: Miss Van Antwerp, McHugh, Haller, Reeves, Rodgers, Wellman, Mercier, Sandstrom.

Student Council

The purpose of the Student Council was to foster and develop the best interests of the students and the school. President Pershing Burgard and faculty adviser, Mr. R. L. Frisbie, led the council in forming a Co-ed Recreation Board and making plans for a recreation hall. The council took over the selling of the J. J. C. play tickets and state tournament tickets, as well as sponsored all school dances in the past year.

Chamber of Commerce

The Joliet Junior College Chamber of Commerce is a recent organization. It has only been established for two years and was first started by Miss Fidelia Van Antwerp. Each year the club was to visit various points of interest in Joliet such as the American Institute of Laundry. This past year each member of the club, whose chairman is James Reeves, wrote a letter for the contest sponsored by the Gregg Company.

College Club

The College Club was the only club that had the distinction of having every student for a member. Sponsored by Mr. E. L. Mayo, the club met the first Monday of every month in the music room. Ernest Lundin, president, assisted by Jack Kauffman and Geraldine Wright, obtained many fine programs. Among them were the Lombard Players; Victor Griffin, Australian lecturer; and Davies Light Opera Company; and Russ Hoogerhyde, world renowned archer.

Debate Club

The Joliet Junior College debating team, coached by Mr. W. L. Myers, for the fourth consecutive year won the state tournament. The team composed of Orrin Long, Pershing Burgard, Clark Mottinger, and Clarence Rimke debated on the subject, "Bicameralism versus unicameralism." At the end of the season debate keys were given. They were the only awards of this kind offered in Junior College and were very much to be desired.

Charley's Aunt

Every year, for the past nineteen years, the students of J. J. C. have presented a play under the able direction of Miss Lena Dickinson. The proceeds of the productions are donated to the College Loan Fund.

"Charley's Aunt," a hilarious comedy by Brandon Thomas, was the play chosen by Miss Dickinson for this year. It centered around the emotional difficulties of three college students at Oxford. One of the boys was forced by circumstances to masquerade as "Charley's Aunt" and the resulting complications provided the audience with a laugh every other line.

The Chocolate Soldier

"The Chocolate Soldier," a comic opera from Oscar Strauss' "Arms and the Man," was presented April 28 and 29 by the combined musical organizations of Junior College and high school.

While Bulgaria and Serbia are at war, Bumerli, nicknamed the Chocolate Soldier and played by Robert Owens, a junior collegian, in trying to escape from the enemy, took refuge in a house where three women lived. They aided him in escaping, and the results were lively and amusing. The production was under the direction of Mr. Alex Zimmerman.

Current Events Club

News of the day was discussed every Thursday noon by the Current Events Club under the direction of Leland Stout, president; Ruth Orbeson and Gordon Fletcher. Throughout the year, lectures were given by well-informed men of the city and faculty members. Occasionally a round-table discussion was held to obtain the students' views. Mr. H. D. Leinenweber was the faculty sponsor.

Standing: Allison, Goodwin, Hammel, Dean, Rowley, Wagner, Mason, Mottinger, Duffy, Bitterman, Burgard, Lundin, Owens, Mercier, Hammel, J., Mainwood.

Seated: Kambic, Haller, Orbeson, Zamkovitz, Stout, Mr. Leinenweber, Lanigan, Spangler, Turner, Slouf, Hendrix.

Seated: Spangler, Moser, Duffy, Clark, Perry, Miss Scott, Grady, Body, Faulkner, McGinnis, Null, Pepper, Manning.

French Club

Le Cercle Francais, composed of students in French, met once a month under the guidance of Miss Mary Scott, faculty adviser. The French Club was organized to further interest the students in French. It was mainly a Choral society and took part in Language Night by singing a group of French songs. In order to acquaint themselves with French customs, the members corresponded with students in France. Plans were also made for the showing of the movie "Sans Famille."

Standing: Stassen, Dean, Rowley, Woods, Bannon, Brockway, Lanning, Reeves, Whiteman, Haller, Myers, Wright

Seated: Wellman, Sellards, Rodgers, Robertson, Knowles, Capista, Clark, Nethery.

Braun, Kirby, Perry, E., Perry, G., Mason, Cox, Duffy, Nymann, Slette.

JC Staff

With "Morning, Afternoon, and Evening" as their motto, the JC staff went to work to produce this yearbook. All of the work was under the direction of Miss Christine Bunch, faculty sponsor; Mary Lois Whiteman, editor; and Eileen Rodgers, co-editor. In order to help finance the book George Wellman, business manager, obtained concessions at the Hawaiian basketball games and the State Tournament, as well as sponsored a Social Hour, the selling of JC buttons for the tournament, and a popcorn sale. In order to create interest, an original play was presented at a college assembly.

Co-ed Board

A new organization of J.J.C. this year was the Co-ed Board. It was composed of six collegians and Miss Elsie Braun, Mrs. Phoebe Kirby, Mr. N. V. Kline, and Mr. A. L. Slette. The purpose of the board was to supervise co-educational sports. A few attempts were made at this last year under the direction of the W. A. A., but this year it was decided to make co-educational sports parties a regular project.

The board sponsored four parties this year, each of which was greatly enjoyed by the collegians. The first of these was the "Sports Spree," a rotative sports party. With winter and skating and bobbing, came the "Snow Party" at the Woodruff Stables. Next, the Co-ed Board turned the calendar back a few years and gave a box social. The last was given at the Armory.

German Club

The German Club, whose president is John Belay, met the first Monday of every month. The members, limited to those students studying German, in order to acquaint themselves with the artistic side of Germany, sang German songs. The main event of the past season was the Christmas party given at the home of Miss Margaret Hielscher faculty sponsor of the club.

College-Y Club

The College-Y Club, sponsored by Mr. H. V. Givens, was one of the most active and beneficial organizations in Junior College. Led by John Duffy, president the first semester, and Clarence Rimke, president the second semester, dinner meetings were held twice a month; while in early fall and spring, outdoor meetings were held. The Free Milk Fund benefited from the New Year's Eve dance sponsored by the Y Club. A date banquet, held on April 22, was another of the club's activities.

Standing: Stout, Shaw, McGovney, Hendrix, Egan, Belay, Nyman, Keir, Slouf, Hicklin, Aseltine, Goodspeed, Cron.

Seated: Capista, Beabout, Bannon, Sellards, Burgard, Miss Hyde, Duffy, Frisbie, Lanigan, Meyers.

The Choir

The Choir, the only musical organization in Junior College, has taken part in various activities both in school and in the city. Under the direction of Miss Ruth Elliott and Mr. A. H. Zimmerman, the choir sang at College Club and presented a Christmas program for the Woman's Club. Some of the members took part in the musical production, "The Chocolate Soldier."

Blazer

The Blazer, the Junior College paper, again led in creating school spirit in all of the activities. Published every other week the Blazer spread all of the college news to the students. The paper, an all-student publication, headed by Pershing Burgard, editor, was the chief means of advertisement in the school. Mrs. Ellery Frost, sponsor the first semester, and Miss Lois Hyde, sponsor the second semester, supervised all of the work.

W. A. A.

The W. A. A. has always been one of the most active organizations of J. J. C., and it is under the leadership of these five women that the club has been able to live up to its reputation during the year '37 and '38. Under the very capable leadership of the president, Jean Stansbury, the members have worked together with enthusiasm and co-operation. Dependable Margaret Cox is the vice-president, and she is always full of interest and ideas. The secretary and treasurer is tiny Eileen Rodgers. She has an amazing amount of efficiency stored up in her small person. It is Georgia Perry, Head of sports, who lends pep and vim to the club. She is active in every W. A. A. sport and excels in all of them. Mrs. Phoebe Kirby is the guiding and supporting hand behind these officers and all W. A. A. girls look to her with admiration and appreciation.

With the co-operation of the officers and other members, the main project—W. A. A. sports, "Sports Spree," numbers in the Interclass meet, Sports Day, Dance program, and the Annual Mother and Daughter Banquet have made the year a great success.

Builds Health

Association

Tennis

Along with spring fever comes that yearning for a good game of tennis. Its action and competition appeal to the sporting instinct. Its elements of surprise, of suspense, and of risks add to the fun of playing. Early practices in the gym were devoted to technique and serving, and later the girls played outdoors.

Baseball

With the first warm days of spring came a desire to get out of doors. The bright sun and warm breezes beckoned us to the baseball diamond. Baseball was the "it" sport now. The thrill a girl received in hitting a "bomer" made baseball one of W. A. A.'s favorite sports. The college teams competed against each other.

Hockey

Hockey, one of the most exciting of outdoor team games, is the first fall sport. It's a thrilling game—dribbling, driving, and passing down the field—then crack—"point." However, "old man weather" intervened this year, making it impossible to finish the season.

Orchesis Gives Rhythm To The Body

Orchesis

To be active in Orchesis is one excellent way to develop grace and poise. Class periods during the first semester were devoted to practicing form and learning fundamentals. During the second semester, the girls worked out dance forms of the Renaissance for the Dance Program given in March.

Deam, Meyers, Maharas, Rabau, Bartholic, Stromberg.

Clark, Duffy, Benson, Zamkovitz.

Tap Dancing

Nimble Feet

Tap

"Brush, slap, step, hop," to some lively music could be heard in the college library every time the tap class went into action in the small gym. At the beginning of the semester, the girls took their lessons with the high school class after school, and later practiced for one of the spring College Club meetings.

Getting Into Practice For The "Big Apple"

Badminton

The third year-round sport included in "Co-ed Recreation" is badminton. This sport was offered by the W. A. A. last year for the first time, and it has become increasingly popular. A ladder tournament was played by the girls in the fall and a mixed tournament took place in the spring.

Ping Pong

Twenty-nineteen, twenty-up, game. This is typical of the competition which the girls gave the boys in ping pong. Every "Co-ed night" found the ping pong tables taken, and then some. This game was played also during free periods every day of the week. A mixed tournament was played in the spring.

Bowling

This year the W. A. A. added two new activities to its program. The first of these was bowling, a year-round sport. It proved to be one of the most popular mixed sports of the year. Bowling at the Hub became a favorite pastime for both boys and girls of J. J. C. Several tournament games were played during the very successful season.

Here's Exercise For The Schoolgirl Figure—

Rogers, Benson, Seamans.

McCracken, Seamans.

Swimming

Swimming is an ideal exercise, and as an all round physical developer, it cannot be equaled. Several "splash parties" were held at the "Y" pool, which proved to be a popular place for a W.A.A. girl to spend her Monday evenings—swimming for form, speed, fun, and relaxation.

Riding

One of the most enjoyable activities offered by the W.A.A. is horseback riding. During the fall and spring, the College Riding Club, consisting of about twelve girls, rode the paths at the Woodruff Stables. Perfect weather and occasional suppers following the rides added to the delight of being an active member.

Shuffleboard

Aim, Shove, crack—ten points—it was a frequent occurrence if you were good at shuffleboard. This game was one of those included in “co-ed recreation” on Mondays after school. This new plan organized by the W. A. A. was enjoyed and drew a large attendance from both girls and boys of Junior College.

Golf

“Fore”—where have you heard that cry? To be sure, the golf course—and we girls can break a hundred, too. Under the professional instruction of Heine Sick, J. J. C. girls learned to concentrate, and to co-ordinate mind and body. An elimination tournament was played in the late spring.

Be On Guard At All Times

Nethery, Perry, Clark, Lindholm, Zamkovitz.

Duffy, Wright, Clyne, Perry, Zamkovitz, Wix.

Basketball

Basketball was the most popular winter sport. The elimination of the center jump made it a more exciting and interesting game for the girls. J. J. C. had two college teams which entered the round-robin tournament with the high school. And oh, what a thrill it was to be chosen for the varsity team! What a season! What fun! What games!

Fencing

"Advance! Lunge! Recover!" coming from the girls' gym meant that a fencing lesson was under way. This second addition to the W. A. A. program was offered to both boys and girls of J. J. C. and to high school students. A series of ten lessons was given by Paul Maina to two classes on Mondays, one at noon and one after school.

★ EVENING

Thrills, Spills, and Suspense—

Varsity

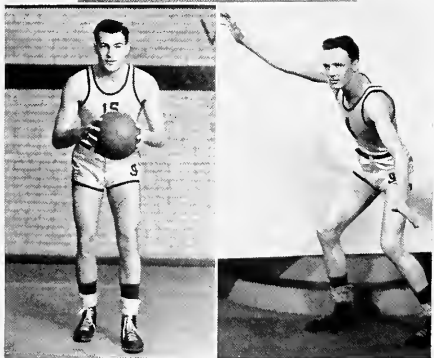

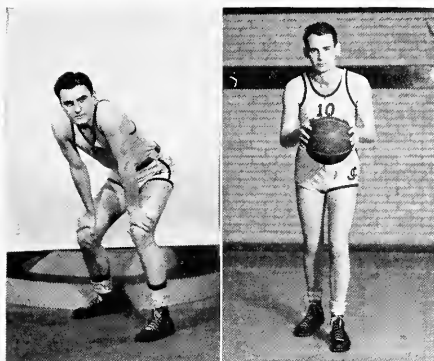

RAY McGRATH—Captain of this year's team and All-State guard for the past two years. His accurate fielding will be missed next year.

BOB ARCHAMBEAULT—High scoring guard and All-State selection in his freshman year. He will be a valuable asset to next year's team.

BILL KNOWLES — Leading scorer of the Wolves this season, and also All-State selection on this year's team. Bill will be graduated in June.

BERNARD FORNANGO — "Bunny" was second leading scorer and finished close behind Knowles in total points. His excellent rebounding and scoring will be counted on next year.

PHILLIP MEYERS—Reliable center and most improved member of the team. Phil scored twenty points against North Park to lead the team for high scoring in a single game.

—Mark Basketball Nights at J. J. C.

The Season's Record

The Wolves won their first eleven games including such prominent opponents as St. Viator, Concordia of Milwaukee, Muskegon, Hanover, and Morton, all four-year colleges with the exception of Morton. The first defeat was suffered at the hands of LaGrange, Joliet's traditional rival. Joliet completed a successful season, winning sixteen games and losing seven, which is a remarkable record considering the caliber of the opponents.

The Wolves shared the conference title with Morton of Cicero, marking the eighth consecutive year that Coach Wills has produced a conference-winning team.

Joliet's victory over St. Viator, 59-56, on the local floor was one of the most spectacular games of the year, establishing Joliet as one of the best teams in Illinois. Concordia, another four-year school, bowed to the Wolves in an overtime game, 42-59. Later the Wolves repeated their victory over Concordia, 44-40, the first time that either team had won both games in one season.

The highlight came on January 27th and 28th, when the Willsmen met the Hawaiian All-Stars in a two-game series, with the Hawaiians winning the first game, 46-44, and the Willsmen the second night trouncing them, 49-56, before a capacity crowd. The Hawaiians' ability as ball handlers provided thrills both nights. Their accurate shooting and passing ability surpassed any previously seen in Joliet.

Reserves

BOB DOWSE—Reserve guard and sixth regular of the team. Bob was one of the best defensive players in the conference. He will return next year.

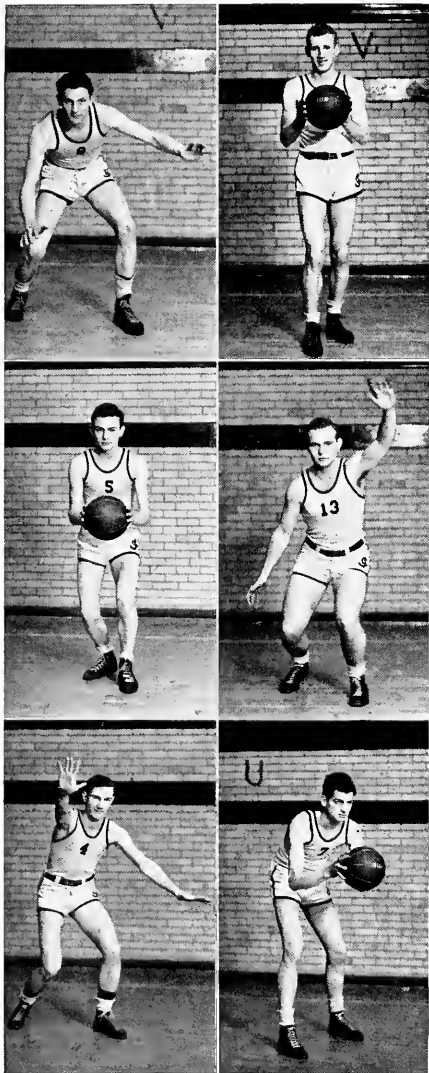

BOB LAYFIELD—Reserve forward who performed well under fire. While not a leading scorer his left-handed hook-shot made him a dangerous opponent. Bob has one semester left.

CHESTER COOPER—A fine defensive player who saw action in a few games. He will return next year to bolster the Willsmen.

WALT HUEY—Walt consistently gave a good showing as a defensive player. His driving ability counted many points for the Wolves.

TED KRUMPOCH—Reserve forward and the coolest player on the team, who saw action in many games. Ted will probably see action as a regular next year.

ROGER RUSH—Substitute center, who developed rapidly as the season progressed. He will undoubtedly see plenty of action next year.

At Joliet Tournament

State Basketball Tournament

"State Champions of 1938" was the title conferred upon Coach Wills and his junior college team at the end of the 1937-1938 basketball season. It was the fourth time in six years that such a title had been brought to the Joliet Junior College. Finishing with last minute drives in both of their earlier games of the tournament, the Willsmen entered the finals against the strong Wright Junior College and emerged victorious by the score of 55-51.

The Wolves entered the tournament seriously weakened by sickness. Every one of the regulars had been sick during tournament week, and physically they were not in the pink of condition. They played their first game against Springfield Junior College and won by the close score of 36-34. Behind seven points, with but minutes remaining, they put on a final drive started by Phil Meyers which brought them victory. Fornango led the scoring for the victors with ten points. The Wolves entered the semi-finals against a strong LaGrange quintet. Previously during the season the Wolves had won one and lost one game against LaGrange. Traditional rivals, both schools wanted a victory and the contest was the hardest and closest game of the tournament. The game got off to a fast start with LaGrange opening the scoring and gaining a lead which they held most of the game. With Klindera and Henning leading the scoring LaGrange led at half time 25-19. The Willsmen opened the scoring the second half, but LaGrange pulled away. With eleven minutes remaining LaGrange led 52-21. The Wolves then started their customary last minute drive which ended only when victory was theirs. Archambeault led Joliet's rally with four consecutive baskets, putting the game into the only overtime one of the tournament. Joliet scored seven points against one for LaGrange, and the game ended with the Wolves ahead 47-41. Bob Dowse proved worthy of his name as a defense star by holding Klindera, LaGrange's ace forward and all-state selection, scoreless the second half. McGrath took scoring honors for the evening with fourteen points.

Joliet entered the finals against the reputable Wright team who eliminated the favored pre-tournament Morton College of Cicero in the semi-finals by the score of 58-27. Wright started a scoring spree which netted them eight points before Joliet scored. McGrath opened the scoring for Joliet, and Knowles followed with two baskets to make the score 8-6. The teams fought on even terms throughout the first half with Joliet leading at half time 19-18. The Wolves pulled away in the second half and held a comfortable lead to the end of the game.

Besides winning the state title Joliet placed three men on the all-state team. The Wolves who received this honor were Captain Ray McGrath, all-state guard for the second consecutive year; Bill Knowles, Joliet's leading scorer, placed at the forward post; Bob Archambeault at the other forward position. Other all-state selections were Klindera of LaGrange, forward; Powers of Thornton, center; Stromeillo of Morton and Danakus of Wright at the guard positions.

The student body salutes Coach Wills and his team for the successful season and championship which they brought to Joliet.

BASEBALL

Not everything looked rosy for Coach Wills when the 1958 baseball season rolled around, with less than two short weeks to select a team defending the Northern Illinois Junior College Conference championship title.

The outfield, the least of the coach's worries, had three returning veterans. The pitching situation was taken care of, although a few good relief hurlers had to be developed. Wills' chief concern was the infield and catcher's position. Not many candidates headed the "call to arms," but Wills did succeed in picking the necessary players.

Inclement weather limited pre-season outdoor practice to four occasions. Without being fully prepared the Wolves invaded Aurora on April 12, where the game was a 4-4 tie, being called at the end of the eighth inning. To Wheaton, the next foe, the Wolves bowed in defeat, 12-5. As baseball games go, these first two were nothing to swallow your gum over. Lack of practice, experience, coupled with two many errors, were the causes of the boys' poor showing.

On April 22 the Wolves accomplished their first victory, hammering out an 18-12 decision over DeKalb. The boys of the Purple and White lost a tough game to Chicago Normal on April 26, a 9-7 victory for the Chicagoans.

In their first home and conference game Joliet won from Lisle, 6-5. However, they lost to Wright 8-5. The next day the Wolves beat Aurora in their second engagement of the season. The score was 5-4, the tying and winning runs being scored in the last half of the ninth inning. As we go to press, seven games remain to be played.

GOLF

Last fall the golf team, which consisted of John Sandstrom, captain; Albert Oesterle, No. 2; Jack Kauffman, No. 3; and Ernest Lundin, No. 4, won two matches and lost three. The squad was defeated at LaGrange and North Park, and dropped one at home to Wright. The turfmen defeated Wilson and Morton here.

This spring a school tournament was held. The finalists were Edmond Perry and Ernest Lundin; the semi-finalists, Jack Kauffman and John Bannon. We go to press before further prediction may be made.

TENNIS

The annual Intramural Tennis Tournament had one of its most successful years, having a strong field of competitors. A total of thirty-six boys entered the field in quest of the title for junior college, including such pre-tournament favorites as Ted Maheras, Ray Slouf, Bob Owens, John Coyle, George Arthurs, Francis Theis, and Charles Mason.

The tournament was run off in smooth style and the four semi-finalists left to fight it out for places on the Wolves' tennis team were: Slouf and Arthurs in the upper bracket; Maheras, seeded No. 1, and Mason of Coyle to play it out in the lower bracket.

The finals and semi-finals have not been played as the annual goes to press, but the boys are fairly well-matched and the final result should be interesting.

Ted Maheras, who has made an outstanding name for himself in high school competition, will be the nucleus of the team, around whom will center Ray Slouf, a finished player in every sense of the word; John Coyle, a vastly improved player; and Bob Owens, George Arthurs, and Charles Mason, who were members of the Wolves' 1957 team. The latter three, who, unfortunately, had not undertaken the game seriously until last year, have improved exceedingly and should aid much in adding more laurels to the school.

Proms and Parties Usher In Social Season

Rotative Sports Spree

Hi, Jean! When did you come home, and why? Last night for Spring vacation! Gosh, we won't be out for about two weeks yet. But I don't care. We've had so much fun here at school this year. Bigger and better times, more dances, sport parties and mixers. Why, we had a mixer the first Friday night after school started last fall. It was a banquet first with games and dancing afterwards. We had lots of fun. Then October 8, we had a Sports' Spree. We all went without dates, and they put us on mixed teams, and we played about twenty different games, with a different team each time. And the winning team got prizes, and we all had refreshments. The W. A. A. Co-ed Recreation board sponsored it, and they certainly did a good job.

SPOOKS SWING

Then in November the W. A. A. gave a dance. Perhaps you'd like to see where we have our dances, so let's go down to the gym. . . Look! Doesn't it offer a lot of possibilities for decorating? Our first college dance this year was the W. A. A. Spooks Swing! It was on November 22, and the gym was decorated spookily with black cats, witches, goblins, and all sorts of haunting things. The lights were low and the whole effect was ghostly, but festive, if you know what I mean. The programs were black owl booklets, and they were the cutest things. The yearbook photographer took some pictures that you might like to see.

FALL FORMAL

There are some, too, that were taken at the College Formal, November 26, which is the most important dance of all on the school calendar. This year the gym was made lovely with a low ceiling of cherry blossoms, and Japanese lanterns were suspended from the boughs of blossoms. It transported everyone into a Japanese formal garden. The programs were little red, gold, and green oriental fans. The effect was made even more beautiful by the gorgeous evening dresses which appeared so graceful and charming. Pershing Burgard and Jane ??? lead the grand march.

Fall Formal

SENIORS MAKE MERRY

SNOW PARTY

In December we had a snow party which was presented by the Co-ed Recreational Board in December, 1958, at the Woodruff riding stables. There were bobbing, sleighing, skating, skiing, ski-joring, and snowballing for all. Cocoa and a great variety of doughnuts were served and heartily enjoyed by everyone. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kirby were the chaperons.

SILHOUETTE BOX SOCIAL

In February, we had something really new and different, a Silhouette Box Social. This occurred February 21, in the girls' gym and was presented by the Co-ed Recreational Board. Old-fashioned games such as "George Washington's Proposal to Martha," "Spin the Platter," "Wink," etc., were played. Then the group of about one hundred and twenty was divided into teams of eight, and relays were run, after which prizes were presented to the winning teams. The refreshments were served in a very novel way. Girls donned long, nondescript robes and bathing caps and walked slowly before a screen backed by white light which showed to the male audience only the silhouettes of the lovelier sex. The boys then bid on the girls' silhouettes and when presented their girls, received with them a box of delicious food covered by beautiful wrappings. The girls then ate with their lucky bidders and 7-Up was served to all. After the refreshments the public address system was hooked up and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

COSTUME BALL

Between semesters we really had fun. Four days of vacation and no homework, so on January 19, we had our annual Costume Ball. Everyone always looks so funny that all have a wonderful time. Ruth Orbesen and Clarke Mottinger won the prize for the most original costumes, as everyone had suspected they would. Here are some pictures taken at the dance. See, there's one of Ruth and Clarke.

With A Hey-Nonny-no

SHAMROCK SHAG

Then on March 18, the Freshmen gave a dance, the Shamrock Shag, and since it was the day after St. Patrick's day, the decorations were all Irish, with shamrocks and pipes all over. The programs were green, and the boys were given little white clay pipes, which the girls got later. The orchestra was fine, and it was a lovely dance.

ROLLER SKATING PARTY

The Skating Party was given April 9, 1958, at the Armory on Cass Street and sponsored by the Co-ed Board. Varied programs were presented thruout the evening with "Couples Only," "Trios Only," "Ladies Only," and "Gentlemen's Tag." Pop and ice cream were sold at a concession booth. Almost one hundred and fifty people enjoyed the games between the hours of seven-thirty and ten-thirty.

OTHER FUNCTIONS

Other dances scheduled were the W.A.A. spring dance April 30, and we wound up with our most important, most anticipated spring dance, the Spring Formal, May 20. Of course we always really complete the year with the College Picnic, which was May 28, and the Junior College Banquet, May 30. It's too bad you can't be here for some of our fun, but I'll tell you all about it when I see you this summer. You'll probably be having a lot of good times at your school, too, so we'll have some nice, long chats when we meet again. Bye, Jean.

SEPTEMBER DAZE

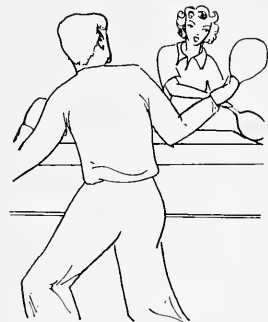

Question: What, to you, was the most important, most exciting, or most interesting event during the past school year?

James Aseltine, Freshman: "September 15 was a very important date in my life, as it marked my entrance into college, which I have anticipated eagerly in years gone by."

Joe College: "Gosh, September 1-1 started all the classes, homework, and trouble!"

Peggy Body, Freshman: "The Mixer banquet and dance was the first Friday night after school started. It was supposed to get everybody mixed, and oh boy, it sure did. I've had fun ever since!"

Myra "Ma" Mather, Dean: "I believe that one of the most educational events of the year was the assembly September 27, at which Mrs. Wood lectured on Social Hygiene and Social Problems."

Jack Kauffman, Sophomore and Politician: "The Primary elections took place September 28, and I began my political career as campaign manager for all my pals. (P. S.: They all were nominated, too.)"

Ye Olde Ballot Box Stuffers: The Freshman and Sophomore Class elections were September 30. We easily elected Owens, Rimke, and Phyllis Anderson for the sophomore officers, and Hutchinson, Slouf, and Dowse for the freshmen. We can't decide, though, whether the class elections were the most fun or not, because we certainly handled the College Club elections nicely, electing Lundin, Kauffman, and Gerry Wright. Elections are our meat."

OCTOBER SPOOKS

Marg Cox, Sophomore: "The Sports Spree on October 8 was a mixer of the most mixy mixers, and everyone had a grand time."

Squeaky Stout, Sophomore and Student: "The five events from which we college students were able to benefit were held at weekly intervals. The first, October 15, was "The Point of View," by Mr. Tipson who is an English lecturer. At the second, October 21, Leslie B. Mass from New York City told about "Ferment in the Orient." Then on October 28, Allen D. Albert from Paris, Illinois, spoke on "Can Any Nation Live Unto Itself?" On November 5, Mr. Ethan Colton, from Upper Montclair, N. J., used as his subject, "Behind European Headlines." Mr. Charles A. Wells, of New York City, concluded this series of lectures with "America's Place in the World Struggle."

NOVEMBER FROLICS

Pershing Burgard: "I liked the college play "Charley's Aunt" because we had so much fun at rehearsals—and it was a darned good play, too."

Phyllis Anderson: "I enjoyed the College Formal, November 26th, because everyone had such a grand time, and the committee felt that their efforts really were appreciated."

DECEMBER FLAKES

George Wellman: "We really had some keen basketball games this year. There were twenty-six games between December and February 26. The best one was on February 26, the last day of the tournament, when we beat Wright 47 to 37 to win the State Tournament. Boy, that sure was great."

Bob Owens: "That skit we gave for the yearbook December 16 had its good points. We said some things there that would never have got by otherwise."

Ed Perry, Philosopher: "Say, you know that Snow Party, December 19th, was really swell. More things like that is what this school needs, take it from me."

JANUARY FLURRIES

Clarence Rimke, Benefactor of Mankind: "The New Year's Eve Dance was certainly a fine thing. It helped a lot of people to have a good time, and, also, it kept them out of mischief. You know, I always enjoy upholding the morals of youth."

Ernest Lundin, Singer: "Those opera singers who sang at College Club, January 3, were really good. I certainly enjoyed every minute of the time I spent listening to them."

Johnny Houbolt, Brain Truster: "Ha! Those three days of exams, January 14, 17, and 18! They were something!"

Dick McHugh, Funster: "Christmas vacation, between-semester vacation, spring vacation, and any other holidays are what I enjoyed most throughout the school year."

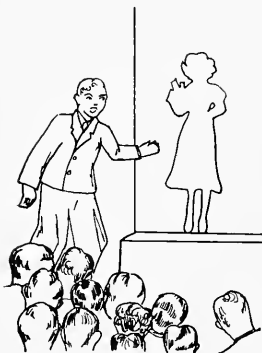

Ruth Orbesen, Designer: "I liked the Costume Ball, January 20. It was so much fun to think of an original costume, and everybody looked so funny that everyone was in high humor, and of course everybody had a good time."

Jean McCracken: "The new semester, January 24th, was certainly a good thing. It gave everyone a fresh start."

FEBRUARY THAWS

Ginny Lindholm, Athlete: "Riding a donkey may sound easy but it isn't. And playing basketball on one is even worse, but it certainly is fun, and the Donkey Basketball games made everybody laugh—even the players, and I wouldn't be surprised if the donkeys got a few hee-haws in themselves on February 7 and 8."

Marj Duffy: "I like things sort of different, and that's probably why I liked the Silhouette Box social, February 21, so much."

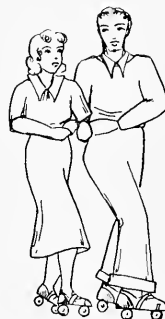

MARCH WINDS

Eileen Rodgers: "We should have more social hours like the one the yearbook sponsored March 4. Everybody likes them, and this school certainly needs more."

Dick Hutchinson: "It had been such a long time since we had a dance that everybody looked forward to the Shamrock Shag, March 18, at which a lot of people danced the cricks out of stiff knees."

APRIL SHOWERS

Georgia Perry: "The Co-ed Board really worked hard to make the skating party, April 9, a success, and it certainly was. Everybody's waiting impatiently for another."

MAY FLOWERS - JUNE DANCES

Gerry Wright: "I'm looking forward to all the exciting things from now until school's out. There'll be the W. A. A. Mother-Daughter Banquet, May 18; the W. A. A. Spring Sports Day and Dance, April 30; the Junior College Spring Formal, May 20; Exams, May 25, 26, and 27; the College Picnic, May 28; and Graduation, June 2."
